A win-win for the Polar Bears . . .

Coach May receives heartwarming surprise at coin toss

Last Friday night started out just like every other Friday game night. The stands were filling with loyal Polar Bear fans, the teams were on the field warming up and no one could have asked for better weather. Then all of a sudden it was apparent that this was no normal game night. The Polar Bear mascot was walking thru the crowd and up and down the track. He usually only makes an appearance later in the season, when it's cooler, for special games such as Homecoming or senior night. Then there were news crews coming thru the gate, video cameras in hand. Something was up, but what? After the teams finished warming up the Captains, Coaches and Refs took the field for the coin toss. The Mascot and news crews were close behind.

As the coin was being tossed the mascot was pacing behind our players. After Bracken won the toss the announcer began giving tribute to one of Bracken County's former graduates and football players who has been serving our country for the last 9 months in Afghanistan, U.S. Army Specialist Justin May. At this time the mascot started taking off the Polar Bear head. Justin's father Ronnie, who is an assistant coach, and his brother Ryan, who was one of our teams captains, a wide receiver and defensive end were starting to walk back to the locker room when they turned to see the best surprise that anyone could image. It was Justin and he was home! Family members came running out of the stands. Their reunion, filled with hugs and tears could be felt by everyone there. It even seemed to energize the team.

Article and Photo by Michele Houston

What a great start to a great game. The teams were evenly matched and the ball changed hands multiple times. At halftime the scoreboard read 0 to 0, but when the Polar Bears emerged from the locker room they showed that they came to play. Logan Houston threw a long bomb to Ryan May to score a touchdown on the very first play of the second half. By the end of the 3rd quarter the score was 6 to 0. In the 4th quarter Logan handed off to Scott Fite who would make a long run to put 6 more points on the board. The Green Devils would also score but it wouldn't be enough. On their last drive Logan would intercept a pass by the Green Devils and the Polar Bears would keep possession of the ball till the time clock ran out. The final score was Polar Bears 12 - Green Devils 6.

Scott Fite had 31 rushes for 228 yds and 1 TD, Logan Houston had 6 rushes for 33 yds, Nick Parker had 2 rushes for 13 yds and Ryan Flora had 3 rushes for 5 yards. Logan had 167 passing yards, 137 of them to Ryan May who also scored a TD.

This coming Friday will be an open week for our Polar Bears but they will resume play on Oct. 11 with a home game against Eminence. The game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. GO BEARS!!!

Another pioneer home was the John Pearl home, where the T. B. Figgins home stands. Yet another was the Cooper home, where Harry Taylor now lives. The Moore family lived in the Jordan home later.

The community was named Fairview because from the ridge along which most of the homes stand a wonderful view was to be had of the blue hills of Ohio, and an almost unbroken circle of horizon.

Germantown - Germantown was laid out by Whitfield Craig in 1794 and incorporated about that time in Bracken County, Ky., although about half of the town lies in Mason County. It now has about 300 inhabitants, five churches, six stores, three restaurants, two garages, one bank and two hotels. The Masonic Lodge, No. 207, is now 89 years old, having been chartered in 1850.

The school system was turned over to the Bracken County Board of Education in 1937 and they, with the aid of the W. P. A. have erected a new building adequate for the needs of the community of four miles radius. Mr. Glass is the present principal of the school. Mr. Charles O. Insko is the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the town, with Messers. John J. McNamera, R. L. Wilson, J. W. Stroud, and A. J. Hall constitute the Board of Trustees. Mr. Lloyd A. Rall is clerk of Germantown.

Foster - In the early days Israel Foster settled at the present location of Foster and got control of a large amount of land. Since many river boats landed at this place it became known as Foster's Landing.

For a time tobacco was manufactured into cigars in a small way and two shoemaker shops made shoes boots.

Dan McMath, Markley Bros. and George B. Holmes conducted stores in which general merchandise was sold.

Foster continued as a an important river port until the construction of the railroad in 1888 after which it gradually decreased. Since the laying of the double track the railroad has acquired most of the shipping and the river trade has decreased to nothing.

Thoughts and Meditations from the Scriptures

GOD IS ONE BUT MAN IS MANY

"Make every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit through the bond of peace." - Ephesians 4:3

If God is one, why are there so many different religions and denominations? Perhaps because man is not one, and is born of strife and is indeed strife incarnate. In comparing the Acts of the Apostles and the Quoran, one is struck by a particular similarity. Both say that they are not rejecting their religious predecessors. The seventh chapter of Acts virtually retells the story of the Hebrew Bible in recounting the preaching of Stephen, until Stephen lashes out at his hearers for not accepting the Christian message: "You stiff-necked people, uncircumcised in heart and ears, you always resist the Holy Spirit" (Acts 7: 51). In the first section of the Quoran we find a similar summarizing of the Hebrew and the Christian Bible, ending with these words: "The Jews say the Christians are misguided, and the Christians say it is the Jews who are misguided. Yet they both read the Scriptures." A little later the Quoran has what is almost an ecumenical profession of faith: "We believe in God and that which is revealed to us; in what was revealed to Abraham, Ishmael, Isaac, Jacob, and the tribes; to Moses and Jesus and the other prophets by their Lord. We make no distinction among any of them, and to God we have surrendered ourselves. We should read the scriptures with an eye for how they unite us rather than divide us from our fellow believers. – Christopher Simon

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday School at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m., message by Brother Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist Church. Brother Dan's message was taken from John 10:27-30 and titled "As Believers, The Lord Is Our Security."

We welcome all to attend our upcoming fall revival on Oct. 18th, 19th and 20th at 7 p.m. The evangelist will be Tony Bishop and we will feature a different group each night for special music.

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI
by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

Judy England was back Sunday. She has been recovering from gallbladder surgery. She said that she is getting better but still is weak.

We were in Cincinnati last Monday morning to be with the White family when Liam White was born. Mother & son are doing well. While we were in Cincinnati, we visited with Larry England who was undergoing a medical procedure. He also is doing well and is back home where he will be continuing his chemotherapy this coming week.

Roger Cheesbro will be filling in for me Sunday. Roger brings his guitar with him as well as a fine message.

Oct. 7 at 4 p.m. we will have our first soup kitchen meal. The menu, at this time, is Susie's wonderful potato soup, grilled cheese sandwiches, a drink, and some kind of dessert. It will not be a fancy meal, but it will be nourishing and it will be free. We are not sure how long we will have the soup kitchen open, it depends upon whether people take advantage of it or not.

Oct. 9 we will have our bread basket meal which will be grilled meats, vegetables, salads, and wonderful desserts. Come and be with us at 12 noon.

Joyce Gibson was the worship leader, Susie Hargett led the singing, Kay Grooms did the power point, Shelby England and Lynn Darnell had children's church.

Our Sunday School class is continuing its study of being a contagious Christian.

Vidie Grace was absent this Sunday and Genna Lou Murray and Paul Mefford were in charge of the music and did a fine job.

Phil White, who I have dubbed our poet laureate, read an original poem about having children. I think that he has already written a poem in honor of Liam White when he makes an appearance during his first worship service.

Cheerleaders host successful chicken dinner fundraiser

On Sunday, September 8, the Bracken County Middle School Cheerleaders held a chicken dinner fundraiser at the Watson Building. There was a great turn out, and the girls were able to raise significant funds to help pay for their new uniforms, warm-ups, and other gear/fees for the year. Around 250 people were served during the meal! Thanks to much time and effort from the cheerleaders and parents, this event was a great success. Much appreciation to Jackie Hamilton for directing/cooking the meal and to all who helped to make this event happen!

Kentucky AFIELD

Muskellunge bite peaking soon

In early November several years ago, a then 14-year-old Montgomery County High School freshman named Sarah Terry fished for muskellunge on Cave Run Lake with her Dad on a gorgeous Sunday afternoon. They fished hard without a single bite to show for their efforts.

Late in the afternoon, Terry's stepdad, Scott Salchli, said they needed to get home soon. She negotiated for 15 more casts before they would call it quits for the day.

She worked a purple and silver Double Cowgirl in-line spinner along a weedline near the Claylick Boat Ramp about half way through her allotted casts. Four and one-half feet of muskellunge followed the bait to the boat.

Employing the old figure 8 move with her inline spinner, the muskellunge came from under the boat and struck on the second pass. After a short, but fierce, struggle, the 47-pound state record came to hand with her lure bent into an "L" shape and missing a hook.

The next six weeks are one of the best times of year to catch muskellunge from Cave Run, Green River and Buckhorn lakes. Another state record could succumb to a well placed in-line spinner, jerkbait or crankbait.

This past week, the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources stocked Cave Run Lake, Green River Lake and Buckhorn Lake with 13-inch long muskellunge at the rate of about one fish per three acres of water. Stocking maintains these highly productive muskie fisheries.

Muskellunge are in the back of creeks right now at Cave Run Lake. Mike Hardin, assistant director of fisheries for Kentucky Fish and Wildlife, witnessed several nice fish caught around him on a recent trip and had several follows.

"Smaller lures, such as a #5 Mepps in-line spinner or a 00 A.C. Shiner, are working better right now," Hardin said. He explained that as the water cools into the low 70s, jerkbaits such as Suicks and larger, slower spinnerbaits and in-line spinners work better.

Kentucky Afield Television host Tim Farmer (left) and Kentucky state record muskellunge holder Sarah Terry (right) study the mount of her 54-inch, 47-pound record fish. Fall is one of the best times of the year to catch trophy muskellunge from Cave Run, Green River and Buckhorn lakes.

"They will soon move out onto the main lake weedbeds," Hardin explained. "You can catch them in 8 feet of water or less on those lures."

Buckhorn Lake in Perry and Leslie counties has one of the highest catch rates for muskellunge in the upper South. Fall is one of the best times of the year to fish the lake. As of this week, some water is flowing through Buckhorn Lake Dam, but the lake remains almost at summer pool.

Weedbeds on flats next to submerged channels are high percentage spots to throw in-line spinners such as the Grim Reaper Model 600 in the sucker color or the Double Cowgirl in the Purple Cisco color. The orange-hued sucker-colored lures work best in the creeks while lures with shades of silver, purple or chartreuse work best on the main lake.

Leatherwood Creek is a top fall creek for muskellunge on Buckhorn Lake.

The heavy drawdown in fall on Buckhorn Lake keeps the tailwater area just below the dam full of muskellunge, providing outstanding fishing. Bank fishing is available, but there is no boat ramp. Anglers may carry down a fishing kayak, canoe or small johnboat and take out at the KY 28 Bridge downstream on the Middle Fork of Kentucky River.

Green River Lake boasts some of the fattest, healthiest muskellunge found anywhere in the country. Fisheries biologists with Kentucky Fish and Wildlife routinely find muskellunge in excess of 40 inches long during population sampling on Green River Lake.

Finding the shad is the key to success for Green River Lake muskies. In fall, shad congregate on flats that extend well out into the lake. The Robinson Creek arm of the lake boasts many of these flats. Work these areas with a Swim Whizz crankbait in the golden shad color.

Windy days improve fall fishing on Green River Lake. Fishing slides on main lake bluffs with crankbaits such the 00 A.C. Shiner in the shad color is an effective presentation on gusty fall days.

The good fishing on Green River Lake lasts past Thanksgiving after the drawdown to winter pool. In early December, large muskellunge strike crankbaits and jerkbaits fished slowly by periodically allowing these lures to float all the way to the surface on the retrieve. Muskies often hit as the lure breaks the surface.

Get out this fall and enjoy some of the best muskellunge fishing in the United States. These three lakes hold national reputations for high strike and catch rates on one of the most difficult fish to catch in nature.

Trash Talk

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug
606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! The neon green poster board sign was taped to the roll-off in Berlin with neon pink duct tape and it read, "This dumpster is full. Please use the roll-off on the Western Hills School parking lot. Thank you, Bracken County Solid Waste Management." Guess what? When Michele Figgins got to her family-owned TMT Market store building this morning, someone had thrown a sofa and other trash on top of the dumpster load. She was as disappointed with the culprit as we were! Privately owned businesses, such as the TMT Market, do not have to allow these dumpsters on their property, but because they want to help their community, they allow these containers to sit on their parking lot for two to three weeks. The thanks they get was quite obvious this Monday morning! Another identical sign had been placed on the dumpster at Foster and it had been completely removed, with no 'sign' of it this morning!

These two roll-offs had gotten full by Friday morning, but we are not the only customers at the Mason County Landfill, and we had to wait our turn for removal of the roll-offs. Because the landfill personnel had several previous commitments on Friday, we would be first on the list for Monday morning, so we got permission to post the signs on the roll-offs alerting citizens to the availability of the Western Hills' dumpster. Again, these roll-offs are on private property and the property should be treated with respect and consideration for the owners. There are not too many folks with this type of community spirit who allow a dumpster for citizens' use to be located on their land, and we don't want a few folks who don't follow the rules to ruin such a program as the roll-offs for everyone. Please folks! Let's get our act together and do this right!

Last week, we received an e-mail from the Ky EPA reminding us that open burning of trash in the Commonwealth is not only against the law, but very dangerous to the health of its citizens and the environment. Most Kentuckians don't know it, but open burning is an incomplete combustion process that actually creates more air pollutants than the emissions from a properly permitted and operating full scale municipal waste combustion facility. In fact, in terms of volatile organic compounds, one household that burns garbage is equivalent to 100 full scale municipal waste combustion facilities that are permitted to burn waste and have the appropriate control mechanisms in place to limit pollution. We are sure that most of you have been negatively affected by someone burning plastic and other manmade products. It is those very harmful toxins and dioxins that cause severe burning of the eyes, nose and throat in healthy adults. Just think what it is doing to the developing bodies of children and the already compromised health of some of our elderly residents. Bottom line – don't burn your trash, because you might lose some cash if you are issued a citation!

North America alone produces 50% of the world's garbage. That's enough garbage each day to fill 70,000 garbage trucks that if lined up bumper to bumper, over a year, would stretch halfway to the moon, and all that garbage is placed in plastic bags that are being used at the rate of one million per minute! The good news is that not all that needs to be land filled! We, as conscientious citizens, have the option to RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seein' you – Bin & Bug.

Hilltoppers smash way to center stage; Billy Donovan talks pay-for-play

Those "arrrrgh ... crunch and grind" groans we heard last Saturday was not a government shut down, or even Mitchell McConnell's reaction to another Courier-Journal expose`. It was the college football attention shift in our state from Lexington and Louisville to Bowling Green.

Taking center stage, Western Kentucky's teased the home folks (and Navy) with a 7-3 score at halftime, then WHAM! A big hit efficient 19-7 win against normally efficient and high scoring Navy on a gorgeous Saturday in the heartland.

What's it mean? Rising to level of signature win (whatever that is), the Hilltoppers' shut-down of the Middies was a clinic in triple option solution, a how-its-done operation with exclamations – couple of smash-mouth tackles that will make it all the way into Hilltopper banquet video. Recruiting visits too.

Notables.

• Running back Antonio Andrews is officially a household word in Kentucky one line down from Teddy Bridgewater on football's marquee. More, alongside ornery teammate Andrew Jackson, Andrews continues to rise as a prime NFL prospect.

• Navy coach Ken Niumatalolo was man-up, telling reporters. "They out-coached us, they outplayed us. We lost and I'm not going to make excuses."

• This week the Petrino(s) are 3-2, should be 4-1, and a win at Louisiana-Monroe this week (Thursday ESPNU) would catapult the Toppers into dates with Louisiana-Lafayette and Troy at L.T. Smith October 15 and 26 were two Ws, would let Hilltopper fans dial bowl talk into the conversation before Halloween.

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL

Kentucky Wildcats. One question, one answer, and crunch the numbers.

"What have you found out about your team the last two games?" Mark Stoops was asked after loss to Florida.

He danced.

"... I like this group. We know where we're at as a program. But we're going to keep on banging. We're going to keep on working. We're going to keep on preparing to win. One of these days when we make enough plays to win, we'll win."

Numbers.

• With 62,067 announced attendance for Kentucky's SEC opener against No. 11 ranked Florida, apparently 5,533 no-shows are waiting for "one of these days," also.

• Babysitting all the verbal commit for next year kids. Wonder how that's going?

• And, UK's athletic department issued a press release: First open practice opportunity for men's and women's basketball teams, is Friday, Oct. 18 at 7:30 p.m. Television broadcast info will be released at a later date.

BILLY DONOVAN

Billy Donovan addressed the issue of pay-college-players at a civic club last month in Tallahassee with eloquence, (recruit) waffle and pragmatism.

"I think kids' attitudes today is, 'you know what, I only have this much time to play basketball, but you know what, I have my entire life to get my degree. I can always go back to school.'

"I'm not saying it's right or it's wrong. (recruit waffle) "But a lot of kids, coming from a situations or environments where financially, they don't have the resources and they've struggled, it's very difficult for them to bypass that kind of money knowing that, 'you know what, I'm going to have so much money, I don't need a scholarship. I can pay for school myself.'"

How is Donovan's stance different from John Calipari at Kentucky?

Not alot. Billy the Kid acknowledges college education while Kentucky's coach is D-League brazen – "it's all about my players."

Donovan's stance is more evidence, abolishing the 19-year-old rule is a solution. Let high school graduates assess their financial druthers and take or leave college scholarships to those who want to be student-athletes instead of pretend-student 'players.'

NEWS & VIEWS

NEWS. Southern Cal coach Lane Kiffin was fired in the middle of the night last Saturday. In the Trojans' 2010 media guide it was written: "To the recruits and parents we've talked to, USC (has) hired Vince Lombardi."

VIEW. Wait for it, a Lane Kiffin story of rise-and-fall-and-redemption coming to you via Sports Illustrated in say, 2015.

NEWS. A column on Scores page of your newspaper sports section is growing. Titled NFL Fines. Latest will be Kareem Jackson. After a pass completion to Seattle's Doug Baldwin last Sunday, Jackson body slammed him instead. Unnecessary roughness.

VIEW. Cha-ching! NFL Fines.

NEWS. Ex-Kentucky one-and-doner DeMarcus Cousins received a four-year contract extension from the Sacramento Kings last week. $62 million.

VIEW. Curious, some media rush to report this as news, but none goes after the rest of this none-of-our-business part about Cousins' pay hike. What will 23-year-old Cousins do with $62 million?

WORTH REPEATING DEPT.

Responding to my favorite team, the Pittsburgh Pirates clinching a playoff birth last week, a reader e-mailed a question. "Finally, the Pirates make the playoffs after 21 years. I guess Pittsburgh area native John Calipari and you will be going to the Pirates' post-season play together, right?"

Then came a note from a Cincinnati Reds fan. "Finally found something you and John Calipari agree on. Is it okay if I join you and Calipari when you go to post season play ... even if I pull for a different team?"

And so it goes.

Hunter Education Course to be held Saturday, October 5

It's that time of year again, time for the Hunter Education Course to be held in Bracken County at the county Extension Office on October 5, at 8 a.m. until completion. With many hunting seasons already under way and many more to come in the next months it is the perfect time to get your hunters education card.

Everyone the age of twelve and over, born on or after January 1, 1975 is required a hunters education card to participate in hunting activities. Also those who plan on hunting in some other states are required no matter the age. Twelve years old is when youth are required to get the card and they may take the course as young as ten. Every state recognizes each others hunter education cards as Kentucky recognizes all other states.

This 10 hour training course includes study in hunter ethics, wildlife conservation and identification, field care of game, trapping, first aid, firearm safety, archery and muzzleloading. The last session of the course will include a written test and a live fire exercise. You may also choose to take the class room portion of the course online or by going to the county library and check out an interactive CD-ROM. The online or CD-ROM versions include a quiz between each section that must be passed to complete and continue to the written test and live sections.

If either is done you are required to bring a copy of the course completion and a notarized copy of the affidavit to the Extension Office by 1 p.m. on October 6 to complete the written test and the live fire portions. The course is a classroom style setting with video and hand outs of course material. Breaks are taken when needed and there will be a break for lunch so bring something or plan on eating in Brooksville for lunch.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2013 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

Artist Ken Swinson to demonstrate Monotype Printmaking at KY Artisan Center

On Saturday, Oct. 5, Ken Swinson, of Washington, Ky., will demonstrate monotype printmaking from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea.

Swinson came to Kentucky for a vacation and liked it so much he left Virginia and moved here in 2000. With no formal art training other than a few classes, Swinson has acquired much of his knowledge from books. After starting out in printmaking in 1995, he then discovered clay. He set up a pottery studio in Augusta, in 2000, where he worked until an injury curtailed his clay career. He then began painting – working in watercolors, acrylics, oils and pastels.

"Kentucky is my inspiration – its landscape and culture and its folk art traditions inspire the work I am doing," Swinson said.

Swinson's work is a fusion of his personal style, and his paintings joyfully depict his experiences – whether riding his bicycle, hiking in the mountains or running a marathon. Traveling throughout the state, Swinson paints directly from the landscape in front of him. He often combines mediums, starting out with a sketch, adding washes of ink or acrylic paint, and then adding pastel or colored pencil.

Swinson will demonstrate monotype printmaking – a one-of-a-kind print image that is drawn onto a plate or flat surface with ink or paint and then printed onto paper in a single pass through the press. The image on the plate is lifted off onto the paper for an original, one-of-a-kind print. Monotypes are prized because of this one-of-a-kind status and also for their unique textural qualities.

Works by Swinson are regularly available at the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea, located at 200 Artisan Way, just off Interstate 75 at Berea Exit 77. The center's exhibits, shopping and travel information areas are open daily, year-round, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and the cafe is open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Celebrating 10 years in 2013, the center currently features works by more than 650 artisans from more than 100 counties across the Commonwealth. Special exhibits on display are, "Capturing the Art of Sport: Works by Kentucky Artisans," through Feb. 22, 2014, and lobby exhibits, "The Founding of the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea" and "Highlights of the First 10 Years," through Nov. 17. For more information about the center's events call 859-985-5448, visit us on Facebook at www.facebook.com/kentucky.artisan.center, or go to the center's website at www.kentuckyartisancenter.ky.gov.
